PROFILE

I am a designer with a frontend background. I have extensive experience with Figma but also like designing in the browser and prototyping with code. I've written for CSS Tricks, Smashing Mag, A List Apart and Sitepoint. I've also penned popular Medium articles about Figma and Sketch.

EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

Web Designer

Defense.com

September 2021 - Present

Visual and UX design on a cybersecurity SAAS web application.

UI Designer

giffgaff

June 2019 – June 2021

At giffgaff I've built a design system in both Figma and code, currently being utilized by all web-focused teams in the company. I worked on the visual design and coding of marketing pages and the UX and UI design of some key user journeys such as the phone handset purchase journey and the account journey.

Frontend Developer

Lucozade Ribena Suntory

February 2019 – April 2019

Design and development on beverage ecommerce sites.

Frontend Developer

Springer Nature

August 2017 - February 2019

Working on the website of the world's most prestigious journal, nature.com, as part of an agile team using a variety of templating languages (Dust, Handlebars), CSS/Sass, HTML5 and vanilla JavaScript. My work at Springer Nature included collaborating with a large team of UX designers to conduct user research and design and implement new visual and interaction design and creating prototypes for user testing.

Frontend Developer

Chamberlain Music

March 2017 – August 2017

I built the frontend for a musical instrumental rental site and designed a website that sells musical instruments.

Design Intern

Peter Anderson Studio

2016

Peter Anderson Studio is a creative agency specialising in opening titles for television shows. I worked with Photoshop and Adobe Illustrator to create visualisations of ideas for pitches to clients.
